

Computer Information Technology

Eric Veenendaal

I am from Draper Utah, and am in my last semester here at BYU-Idaho. I plan on working as a system administrator or in the field of system security. I have taken classes from nearly all the professors in the CIT department. I completed an internship earlier this year, and I know the process to get an internship approved. I enjoy playing all sorts of sports, but my favorites are frisbee and running. I also enjoy helping people with their computer problems when I have the time to do so.
