

Welcome to Brigham Young University-Idaho. Whether you are a new or returning student, I offer my warmest wishes for a successful and productive school year.

A BYU-Idaho education is a unique experience—one designed to strengthen you both intellectually and spiritually. At this university, you have access to a top-quality education offered in a wholesome environment rich with academic, social, and cultural opportunities.

Your time at BYU-Idaho will prepare you well for employment, for additional education, and for the vital roles you will fulfill as a parent and a citizen. Most importantly, your BYU-Idaho education will strengthen your testimony of the gospel of Jesus Christ and set you on a lifelong path of discipleship.

I encourage you to take advantage of every opportunity available to you here. Immerse yourself in your coursework. Seek out mentoring experiences with faculty members. Participate in the Student Activities Program, and be actively involved in your student ward and stake. As you do, you will find your BYU-Idaho experience to be intellectually stimulating, spiritually uplifting, and immensely rewarding.

Once again, welcome to BYU-Idaho.

Best regards,
