Introduction

The study of religion is the core of academics at BYU-Idaho. It provides the basis for our very existence as one of the Lord's universities, and every student is expected to make Religion classes an integral part of their studies.

Details showing the University requirements for Religion are shown in the Foundations and University Requirements sections in the front of this catalog. Students may also find information under Religion Requirements on the Religion homepage.

A seminary Pre-Service program for prospective Seminary teachers is also offered. Interested students who are beginning their junior year at BYU-Idaho should take the Teaching Seminary course, FDREL 471. For more information, contact the Pre-Service Director at 496-3992, or his secretary at 496-3990.

Attendance: Each instructor may establish criteria for giving credit, but generally, lack of attendance would affect a student's grade detrimentally and could result in no credit for the class, thus requiring the student to retake the class.

Transfer of Religion Credit from Other Universities

Religion credit earned at other LDS Church schools will transfer to BYU-Idaho as an equivalent religion course or elective credit so long as the course is taken for credit and such credit is noted on an official transcript. While religion credits from other LDS Church schools may transfer to fulfill required religion content, they do not satisfy the BYU-Idaho resident religion requirement (religion courses taken from BYU-Idaho). Coursework in religious studies from any institution other than an LDS Church school or Institute of Religion will not be accepted toward fulfilling the BYU-Idaho religion requirements.

Transfer of Religion credit from CES Institutes of Religion

Religion credit earned at Church Education System (CES) Institutes of Religion will transfer to BYU-Idaho as an equivalent religion course or elective credit so long as the course is taken for "Church University" or "BYU" credit and such credit is noted on an official Institute transcript. Qualifying Religion credit taken from CES Institutes of Religion will fulfill both the BYU-Idaho content and resident religion requirement. This policy is primarily designed to benefit BYU-Idaho students who are participating in the online degree programs. Students who are attending BYU-Idaho on-campus are strongly encouraged to register for religion courses offered through BYU-Idaho.

Transfer of Credit from BYU Jerusalem Center

All courses taken at BYU Jerusalem Center (during a student's BYU-Idaho experience) will transfer to BYU-Idaho and calculate into the student's BYU-Idaho GPA. Religion courses taken at BYU Jerusalem Center (during a student's BYU-Idaho experience) will transfer to fulfill both religion course content and the resident religion requirement; however, such credit does not apply to the completion of the overall BYU-Idaho residency requirement. BYU Jerusalem Center credits earned prior to a student's enrollment at BYU-Idaho can be used to fulfill religion course content only, but may not be applied to any BYU-Idaho residency requirement.

Second Religion Class: It is recommended that students take only one religion class each semester. No approvals are necessary for a student to enroll in a second religion class, but please be aware that the registration system will not allow registration for a second religion class prior to the first day of the term in which the student will take the class. Note particularly that this applies equally for 2nd Block classes (that is, they cannot be added until the first day of the 2nd Block). Students should take this into account when planning so that credit limits for scholarships or other financial aid can be met without the second religion class appearing on their registration before the first day of the term.

Three or more religion classes in one semester require departmental approval. Such approval will only be granted in cases of extreme academic necessity. If you feel your situation qualifies, you may apply to the Religious Education Transfer and Credit Advisor, Lon Pyper, in Taylor 202E, 496-3951.

Waivers: Should a student be denied a graduation diploma from BYU-Idaho because the religion credit was not completed and reasons for the non-completion were beyond the control of the student, an appeal may be submitted for review. For clarification and/or application for a waiver, see the Religious Education Transfer and Credit Advisor, Lon Pyper, in Taylor 202E, 496-3951.
