

Winter 2016, and Spring 2016. Students who wish to receive maximum scholarship consideration should also complete the 2015-2016 FAFSA (if eligible) by April 15, 2015. International students who cannot complete the FAFSA will automatically receive the maximum consideration.

Financial Aid Determination Date (FADD)

Scholarship amounts are based on the number of credits the student is registered for on the 23rd day of the semester, the FINANCIAL AID DETERMINATION DATE (FADD). This is the last day to drop classes without receiving a W grade. Students are responsible to be aware of the FADD each semester, as well as the individual credit requirements for each of their scholarships. Scholarship amounts are recalculated as needed after the Financial Aid Determination Date.

Students may owe funds or receive additional funds based on their credits as of FADD. It is a student's responsibility to repay any scholarship funds for which he/she is not eligible.

- Academic Scholarships- If the student is enrolled in less than 14 credits as of midnight on the FADD, the entire amount of the scholarship will be reversed and the student will be required to return all scholarship funds. (Exceptions can be granted for students in their last semester before graduating.)
- Other BYU-Idaho Scholarships – If a student is enrolled in 6-11 credits as of midnight on the FADD, the award amount will be prorated based on the number of credits on FADD. If a student has less than 6 credits, the entire scholarship will be returned. (Exceptions can be granted for students in their last semester before graduating.)

HOUSING

Single-Student Approved Housing

All single students under the age of 30 must live in approved housing unless they live at home with their parents. Only admitted students are eligible to live in approved housing beginning in their first assigned semester. Individuals enrolled in Continuing Education who are not admitted to a track or online-only students are not eligible to live in approved housing. Students who wish to live with a relative must receive an exception from the Housing & Student Living Office to live outside of approved housing. Exceptions are granted on a case-by-case basis and do not constitute an approval of the dwelling, but rather temporary approval of the living situation for the student. Exceptions are time-bound and may be withdrawn at any time. Those whose spouse has passed away or are divorced must receive an exception from the Housing & Student Living Office to live in approved housing. Failure to comply with approved housing guidelines will result in a hold being placed on the student record. This hold may prevent a student from registering for, adding, or dropping classes.

Individuals in the following categories must seek housing in the community market: (a) those who have not been admitted as BYU-Idaho students; (b) students who have been suspended for an Honor Code violation; (c) students on academic suspension; and (d) single students with children. All students living off campus must provide the university with their current local street address while enrolled at BYU-Idaho. Students giving a false address are in violation of the Honor Code and subject to disciplinary action through the Student Honor Office, which may include suspension.

Student Living

Outside the home, the apartment represents the most natural and effective place for you to practice living according to the teachings of the Savior. Your genuine efforts to love and respect roommates, take responsibility for the culture within your apartment and throughout the complex, and honor the commitments you have made while helping others do the same will contribute to a spirit of unity, accountability, and integrity in the apartment. Student Living at BYU-Idaho is, in essence, a pattern for gospel-centered living reflective of Zion.

Centre Square Apartments

New for the Fall 2015 semester, Centre Square is owned and operated by BYU-Idaho and offers 2, 3, and 4 bedroom apartments for men and women. Utilities, internet, and cable TV are provided in each of the three buildings. A limited number of parking permits are available for $30 per semester.
