University Store

The University Store is the place to find class required items as well as a wide variety of BYU-Idaho gear, gift ideas, general books, apartment necessities and hot new technology items. The following information can help students save time and money.

I Compare

The University Store has a great textbook price comparison tool called I-Compare. This tool can be found online at www.byuistore.com under the Textbooks tab. Simply browse for the books you need, and the store will show you the cheapest price from various online book sellers. “If we’re not the cheapest price, we’ll show you who is.”

Reservations

To avoid lines and save you valuable time, for convenience students can go online to reserve their textbooks and other required materials. This link can be found at www.byuistore.com under the textbooks tab. Reserving books also gives students first pick on selecting used or rental books, which can save quite a bit of money.

Book Buybacks

The University Store buys back used textbooks during the testing week and at the end of each semester. The quicker students return their books back to the store, the more likely it is for them to get a good price on their return. Textbook Buyback is usually held in 3 different locations including 176A in the Manwaring Center, The Ricks Foyer, and the Hart Foyer. Students can stay in-the-know by following the “BYUI Store” on Facebook and Instagram.

FREE Microsoft Office

Students can download the most recent version of Windows as well as Microsoft Office for absolutely free. The link for this free download can be found at www.byuistore.com under the Technology tab. For any questions regarding the download call Microsoft at 1-888-396-1447.

Contact the University Store with any questions at (208) 496-3400.

Disability Services

Brigham Young University Idaho provides reasonable accommodations to qualified students with disabilities pursuant to applicable disability law.

THE DAVID O. MCKAY LIBRARY

The David O. McKay Library’s collections number nearly one million items including books, CDs, DVDs periodicals, microforms and sheet music. These collections are enhanced by hundreds of online databases that offer e-books, digital government publications, and millions of full-text journal articles. Items not available in the library may be requested through interlibrary loan and received within a few days from other libraries around the nation.

The library maintains more than 300 computer work stations (PCs and Macs) with access to research materials, the Internet and e-mail, and with production tools such as word processing and spread sheets. Seating for approximately 1,200 users, including study carrels, tables, and group study rooms, is available throughout the building. The McKay Commons provides an area for individual as well group study near personnel from the Library, the Student Technology Center (STC) and Academic Support who will help with research, computer applications and writing skills.

The Family History Resource Center is staffed by skilled assistants and knowledgeable instructors to help students with their Family History research needs.

Library personnel are eager to help patrons locate and use materials. An introduction to library resources and services is offered via walking tours that begin at the service desk near the southeast entrance and through orientations and seminars held throughout the semester, introducing resources that are available at the McKay Library. Librarians also teach one-credit Library Research classes each block.

Students, faculty and staff use their BYU–Idaho I-Card to check out books. Additional information is available at the library website, www.lib.byui.edu.
