Introduction

Today, all types of formal and informal interaction between peoples of varied backgrounds and languages is increasingly possible and important. During this era of rapid globalization, everyone can benefit from the vital skills of languages, cultural knowledge, and global competency.

We are counseled to learn “of things which are at home [and] things which are abroad: the wars and the perplexities of the nations, and the judgments which are on the land, and a knowledge also of countries and of kingdoms” (Doctrine and Covenants 88:79). We are further counseled to “study and learn, and become acquainted with all good books, and with languages, tongues, and people” (Doctrine and Covenants 90:15).

International Studies

(major, concentration, minor, and cluster)

The purpose of the International Studies program (major, minor, and cluster) is to provide an avenue for students wishing to maximize the opportunity for linguistic and international competence while developing a disciplinary specialty that would allow them to enter the workforce directly or prepare them for graduate school in a number of different disciplines or professions. The major is unique in its modular structure, including a core in Economics, History, Geography, and Political Science, area studies in culture, and the flexibility to choose a minor or clusters. Students must demonstrate language proficiency at the third-year level. Students may also do a concentration, minor, or cluster in International Studies.

Major

- International Studies

Concentration

- International Studies (see IDS)

Minor

- International Studies

Languages (major, concentration, minors, and clusters)

The Department of Languages and International Studies at BYU-Idaho helps students to build speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills, as well as cultural awareness in five languages from the beginning to advanced level (Chinese, French, German, Russian, and Spanish). We also certify applied second language proficiency, facilitate comparative second language learning for students of “other” languages, and offer coursework for teachers and students of English as a second language. Programs exist to meet student needs in the following areas:

Major

- Spanish Education

Concentration

- Spanish (see IDS)

Education Minors

- Chinese, French, German, Russian, Spanish, TESOL

Minors

- Single language - Chinese, French, German, Russian, Spanish, TESOL
- Area - Asian Languages, European Languages, Latin American Languages, Slavic and East European Languages, World Languages
- Multi-Lingual - Afrikaans, Albanian, Arabic, Armenian, Bulgarian, Cambodian, Cantonese, Cebuano, Croatian, Czech, Danish, Dutch, Estonian, Farsi-Persian, Fijian, Finnish, Georgian, Greek (modern), Guarani, Haitian-Creole, Hiligaynon, Hmong, Hungarian, Icelandic, Ilonggo/Hiligaynon, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Latvian, Lithuanian, Malagasy, Malay, Maori, Mongolian, Navajo, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Quechua, Romanian, Samoan, Serbian, Swedish, Tagalog, Tahitian, Thai, Tongan, Ukrainian, and Vietnamese, Welsh.

Applied Second Language Proficiency

Students with advanced foreign language skills campus-wide may complement their declared majors by following the prescribed sequence that demonstrates proficiency in a second language.

- One approved upper-division class in Chinese, French, German, Russian, or Spanish
- One 2-credit independent study class in the foreign language with coursework applied to the student’s chosen discipline
- Completion of the computerized Oral Proficiency Interview (OPIc) arranged through the department (Requires a minimal test fee.)

A notation of Applied Second Language Proficiency will appear on the student’s transcript. The Department will issue students a certificate with their OPI score.

Online Certificates

- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL)
Prepares those with solid English language skills to teach English as a second or foreign language in the U.S. and abroad.

- English as an International Language (EIL)
Provides English language instruction to assist international students to increase language skills for employment and/or continued education. Students will increase their English language proficiency by focusing on oral communication, listening skills, reading skills, and writing skills.

Competency Credit

Returned missionaries and others with extensive non-academic foreign language experience may receive up to 12 hours of credit by successfully passing the tests offered at <https://flats.byu.edu/> in any of the languages listed. Alternatively, students who begin their language study at a higher level and receive a C grade or better may petition up to 12 hours of vertical credit for the courses they skip. For help with this option, please contact CLLacademicdiscoverycenter@byui.edu. Native speakers are not eligible for test or vertical credit.

Placement

Students with high school language experience should begin their language study at the highest level possible. An online placement test is available at the department homepage (see below). Returned missionaries start at the 202 level (302 in Spanish). Native speakers begin as follows: 301 in Chinese; 321 in French, German, and Spanish; 202 in Russian. However, native speakers who are language education majors or minors should begin with 202 (302 in Spanish).

Notes

Language Education majors and minors must pass a proficiency-based certifying test (Praxis). If students have not had a language immersion experience we strongly encourage them to take part in a study abroad language program.

Course Descriptions

Credits*

CHIN 101 Beginning Mandarin I	(4:4:0:0)
This course is a prerequisite for Chinese 102 and Chinese minor. It may also meet the requirements of other minors and clusters (check with your home program or department) and the needs of students with other interests, such as preparation to teach English in China or acquisition of a “feel” about Mandarin Chinese and Chinese culture. This course assumes that students have NO training in Mandarin Chinese. The emphasis is, therefore, on developing the basic communicative skills. (Fall, Winter, Spring)
CHIN 102 Beginning Mandarin II	(4:4:0:0)
Prerequisite: CHIN 101 Continued emphasis on basic language skills. (Fall, Winter, Spring)
CHIN 201 Intermediate Mandarin I	(4:4:0:0)
Prerequisite: CHIN 102 Intermediate Mandarin Chinese language skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Mandarin-speaking returned missionaries are encouraged to begin with this course. (Fall, Winter, Spring)
CHIN 202 Intermediate Mandarin II	(4:4:0:0)
Prerequisite: CHIN 201 Intermediate Mandarin Chinese language skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Mandarin-speaking returned missionaries are encouraged to begin with this course. (Fall, Winter, Spring)
CHIN 301 Advanced Mandarin I	(3:3:0:0)
Prerequisite: CHIN 202 Focuses on the development of oral fluency, discourse grammar, and advanced reading skills. (Course is currently not being offered)
CHIN 302 Advanced Mandarin II	(3:3:0:0)
Prerequisite: CHIN 202 Focuses on the development of oral fluency, discourse grammar, and advanced reading skills. (Course is currently not being offered)
CHIN 345 Chinese Culture	(3:3:0:0)
Course equivalent to INTST 345 Prerequisite: FDENG 101 This course consists of an examination of Chinese culture from ancient to modern times. Topics vary, but may include: geography, history, politics, family, social issues, religion, language, literature, and thought. (Course is currently not being offered)
CHIN 347 Topics in Advanced Chinese	(3:3:0:0)
Prerequisite: CHIN 202 Focuses on the development of oral fluency, discourse grammar, and advanced reading skills. (Course is currently not being offered)
CHIN 377 Chinese Teaching Methods	(3:3:0:0)
Course equivalent to FR 377, GER 377, RUSS 377, SPAN 377, and TESOL 377 Prerequisite: CHIN 302 Students must complete background check with Field Services. Chinese teaching skills and theories of second language acquisition. (Fall, Winter, Spring)
