

Policy

Current matriculating single students who are off-track and continue to live in the immediate Rexburg area are required to live in approved, single-student housing as a condition of their continued enrollment.

Guidelines

- BYU-Idaho single students continuing their education at BYU-Idaho are required to live in approved housing unless an exception has been granted.
- All University Housing policy changes or adjustments to guidelines will be communicated to approved-housing units through official written university communication.