Problem Oriented Activities in the First Semester General Chemistry Laboratory: A Hybrid Approach to Learning.

Shane Ruebaush, Anna V. Nielsen, Serena Michalsky, Hector A. Becerril*

Course Structure

- Exam
- Quiz
- Homework
- Lab
- Videos
- Discussion
- Preparation

Literature references

Course Structure

- Exam
- Quiz
- Homework
- Lab
- Videos
- Discussion
- Preparation

Structure of Lab Activities

- Report: Science writing heuristic
- Challenge: 90 min
- Poster presentation: 30 min
- Poster design: 30 min
- Exploration: 75 min
- Pre-lab quiz: 15 min
- Videos
- Preparation
- Online

Student Posters

- Lab 4

Acknowledgements

The authors gratefully acknowledge Luke Hale, Mike Jeffs, Ryan Rasmussen and Jose Missiego from the BYU-I Audio/Video Productions Department for their instrumental work in developing our lab technique videos. We also acknowledge Prof. Vicente Telangor (U. Arizona, Tucson) for insightful communications and for sharing his CHEMXXI curriculum; Prof. Marykay Ortiz (U. Nevada, Las Vegas) for useful chemical education research discussions. Finally, we acknowledge financial support from the BYU-I Chemistry Department and the BYU-I Mentor Student Research Fund.

BYU IDAHO

Department of Chemistry

525 South Center St. 230 Romney Building Rexburg, ID. USA. 83460.